

EAT in association with WIFT offers Speed Dating for Writers & Directors

This free networking event is an opportunity for female Writers and Directors to meet each other and scope the potential of future collaborations in a supportive environment.

In seven minute one on one encounters Writers will pitch their work and Directors seeking a Writer to work with will have an opportunity to discuss ideas.

Writers must have a script to pitch (doco, feature, short or webseries) completed to first draft.

Directors must have a director credit on a screen production.
